

London Borough elections 2002 results - table compiled by Electoral Reform Society

			Conservative		Labour		Lib Dem		Green	Other		Issues
			Vote %	Seats	Vote %	Seats	Vote %	Seats	Vote %	Vote %	Seats
Barking & Dagenham	51	Lab	13.8	2	55.6	42	23.2	3	1.2	6.3	4	One party state - Labour deserve control but the 44.4% who did not vote for the party deserve more than token representation. Perhaps complacency etc were conditions for BNP advances in the borough? Unopposed returns - Labour were guaranteed 11 seats before a vote was cast.
Barnet	63	Con	39.8	33	33.9	24	17.1	6	8.3	0.9	0	Unrepresented party - Greens would have 5 seats on proportional basis.
Bexley	63	Lab	42.1	30	33.3	32	15.2	1	0.6	8.7	0	Wrong winner
Brent	63	Lab	33.0	19	42.0	35	17.0	9	5.8	2.3	0
Bromley	60	Con	50.6	41	14.1	6	32.6	13	1.2	1.5	0
Camden	54	Lab	25.3	11	33.2	35	23.2	8	13.6	4.6	0	Exaggerated majority - Labour have 65% of seats on 33% of vote. Unrepresented party - Greens 'entitled' to 7 seats
Croydon	70	Lab	45.2	32	38.0	37	12.2	1	0.3	4.3	0	Wrong winner
Ealing	69	Lab	29.5	17	44.8	48	16.3	4	7.4	2.2	0	Unrepresented party - Greens would have 5 seats on proportional basis.
Enfield	63	Con	49.5	39	35.3	24	11.3	0	2.8	1.0	0
Greenwich	51	Lab	26.1	9	47.1	38	20.3	4	3.1	3.3	0	Exaggerated majority - Labour may deserve control but other parties severely under-represented and effective opposition made difficult.
Hackney	57	Lab*	16.8	9	43.4	45	11.8	3	15.5	12.5	0	Exaggerated majority - Labour have 79% of seats on 43% of vote. Effective opposition made difficult. Unrepresented party - Greens would have 9 seats on proportional basis.

Hammersmith & Fulham	46	Lab	41.7	18	41.6	28	14.5	0	0	2.2	0	Wrong winner (only just) Unrepresented party - Lib Dems would have 6-7 seats on proportional basis.
Haringey	57	Lab	15.9	0	40.3	42	26.7	15	12.8	4.2	0	Unrepresented party - Conservatives would have 9 seats on proportional basis. Unrepresented party - Greens would have 7 seats on proportional basis.
Harrow	63	NOC	49.7	30	43.7	30	2.3	3	1.6	2.8	0
Havering	54	NOC	37.6	26	25.4	9	5.4	1	0.7	30.8	18
Hillingdon	65	NOC	41.3	31	34.6	27	17.3	7	3.3	3.6	0
Hounslow	60	Lab	29.5	15	37.9	36	13.4	5	3.4	15.7	4	Majority on low share of the vote.
Islington	48	LD	3.9	0	33.5	10	43.0	38	11.8	7.8	0	Exaggerated majority - Lib Dems have 79% of seats on 43% of vote. Unrepresented party - Greens would have 5-6 seats.
Kensington & Chelsea	54	Con	57.3	42	26.0	12	15.6	0	1.2	0	0	Lack of competition - no wards changed hands other than in boundary alterations since 1982. Unrepresented party - Lib Dems would have 7-8 seats on proportional basis.
Kingston-upon-Thames	48	LD	35.0	15	11.7	3	47.4	30	2.9	3.0	0
Lambeth	63	NOC	16.2	7	36.6	28	33.3	28	11.5	2.3	0	Unrepresented party - Greens would have 7 seats on proportional basis.
Lewisham	54	Lab*	16.8	2	39.8	45	19.0	4	16.5 (1 seat)	7.9	2	Exaggerated majority - Labour have 83% of seats on 40% of vote. Effective opposition made difficult. Under-represented parties; Con and Green would have 7 each proportionately, not 2 and 1.
Merton	60	Lab	34.3	25	33.8	32	14.2	0	10.1	7.6	3	Wrong winner (only just) Unrepresented parties - Lib Dems would have 8-9 and Green 6 seats on proportional basis.
Newham	60	Lab*	20.3	0	50.3	59	4.0	0	12.6	12.8	1	One party state - Labour deserved a majority but 98% of seats on 50% of the vote is too much. All other parties were unrepresented (except the CPA) despite the Conservatives having the votes for 12 seats and Greens for 7-8.

Redbridge	63	Con	42.0	33	33.0	21	19.3	9	2.8	2.0	0
Richmond-upon-Thames	54	Con	43.9	39	14.2	0	36.3	15	3.1	2.5	0	Exaggerated majority - 44% of the vote produced 72% of seats; a 7.6% lead over the next party produced more than a 2:1 advantage in seats. Unrepresented party - Labour would have 7-8 seats on a proportional basis.
Southwark	63	NOC	13.1	5	37.4	28	37.7	30	7.8	4.2	0	Unrepresented party - Greens would have 5 seats on proportional basis.
Sutton	54	LD	35.4	9	12.3	3	48.9	42	3.2	0.2	0	Exaggerated majority - Lib Dems won 78% of seats on 49% of vote. Effective opposition made difficult.
